CHAS. MERTS, President. H. L. HINE, Vice Pres't. R. B. CARNAHAN, Cashier.

DIRECTORS, Chas. Merts, H. L. Hine, H. W. Riddle, C. S. Leonard, Orrin Stevens.

Your business is solicited.

SECOND MATIONAL BANK,

RAVENNA, OHIO. CAPITAL PAID UP, $150,000 In U.S. Bonds.

U.S. Bondsof all kinds bought and sold, and exchanged at current market rates.

U. S. COUPON FOUR PER CENT Bonds on hand for immediate delivery.

G. F. ROBINSON, President. C. A. REED, Vice Pres't.

WM. H. BEEBE, Cashier. F. H. CARNAHAN, Teller.

Business Cards.

JOHN PORTER. Attorney and Counsellor at Law. BLACESTONE BLOCK. RAVENNA, O. TO LOAN.—Money to loan on Farm Property.

JOHN PORTER, Ravenna, O.

C. H. GRIFFIN, DENTIST .- Office over First National Bank. Office hours from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

H. H. SPIERS, PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON, OMC in Blackstone Block Office open at all hours,

J. H. DUSSEL, A TTORNEY AT LAW, and NOTARY PUBLIC. Counsel in English and German. Pension business and foreign correspondence solicited. Agency for reliable Steamship lines Office over Fiath's Clothing Store, Ravenna. O

J. H. NICHOLS.

S. F, HANSELMAN. A TTORNEY AT LAW.
PROSECUTING ATTORNEY,
Office in the Court House.

I. T. SIDDALL, Attorney at Law. Office in Phenix Block, RAVENNA, O

J. W. HOLCOMB, TTORNEY AT LAW. A Telephone No. 58. Room 12, Riddle Block

I. H. PHELPS, A TTORNEY AT LAW (1271) Office in Swift Block, Rayenna, O.

HARRY L. BEATTY, TTORNEY AT LAW, MOTARY PUBLIC. A Office, Room 18, Riddle Block,

Owners, Builders, AND Users of Roofs We have something of interest for you

Climax Ready Roofing

For all kinds of new and old roofs.

Ebonite Varnish For Tin and Metal Roofs, Crestings, Iron Bridges, Tanks, Boilers, Fences, Smoke Stacks, and any exposed metal

Excelsior Slate Paint For making water tight and fire-proof Shingle and Felt Roofs, For prices and information, testi-

&c., call on or address OLIN & OLIN Elmira Roofing Co's Agents for Portage County. OFFICE nearly opposite Opera House RAVENNA, O.

RAVENNA NEWS DEPUT All who admire clean, white linen,

The Quaker Mills! Will continue to pay the highest market price for WHEAT AND OATS, and will have for sale a full line of Mill Feed, Also, Baled Hay and Straw, Goods delivered free of charge in

THE AMERICAN CEREALICO.

Corporation. Telephone, No. 3,

Best Had Coal! See us before buying. MORGAN & SON

James Shepherd, Have opened a shop in the rear of the Poe Block BAVENNA, OHIO, and are prepared to do all work in the line of TINWARE ROOFING AND SPOUTING a Specialty. Also, all kinds of galvanized Iron work, and Stove and Furnace

All work guaranteed. Prices satisfacto y.

DEMOCRATIC

Vol. 25, No. 40.

RAVENNA, O., WEDNESDAY, MAY 24, 1893.

of course.

definition of friendship.

Marie-Say regret.

ionless word.

Marie - Friendship generally, or friendship between men and women!

Leonard-Between men and wome

Marie-I hardly know how to de-

Leonard-For instance, does friend-

Leonard-Regret is a weak, expres-

Marie-It is strong enough for Leonard-Ah! Then if a man and parting with you and the uncertainty ship make parting an anguish?

Marie—Anguish is a strong word.
Leonard—Well—grief.

WHOLE No. 1287.

To Buyers of

IN OUR

You will find a house full of goods, With the Prices plainly marked.

Clothing from us always attracts favorable attention, because it is always And, on second thinking, we all agree. just right in

 $_STYLE$, FIT

GENERAL MAKE UP

That's worth a good deal, isn't it? When you add to this the fact that it costs you no more to wear our clothes—usually less-why should any one be otherwise than handsomely dressed? Now we are selling Suits far below any previous time known in the history of Clothing.

Today We Talk of Clothing

Special offerings throughout our entire stock of Men's, Youth's, Boys' and Children's

Which will be a pleasure to those who have not yet seen our im" mense line of the above goods. We are now selling Men's Pants for 65c., worth $1.50 to $2.00.

Are you in need of a pair of NOBBY SUMMER PANTS to match stormey at Law and Notary Public. Office your coat and vest, or a beautiful fancy VEST for Summer wear? In Phonix Block, over Second National Bank, Come and see us. We are headquarters for them. Washable Vests

Our $7.50, $9.00, $9.50, $10.00, $10.50, and $12.00 Suits Have been great sellers with us. If you have not purchased one of these magnificent Bargains, come early, before the choicest of the

OUR FANCY PERCALE SHIRTS in all grades can not be excelled in Fit, Workmanship or Style, they are fast sellers-they go like hot cakes on a cold Winter morning. We may be the youngest, but we are by far the most VIGOR-OUS, HEALTHY, and LARGEST Clothing House in town. We sell goods on their merits, guaranteeing thorough excellence

Femember where we are-POE BLOCK.

B. Heskins The Rochester Clothing Mfg. Co., Manager.

Equitable Life SETTLEMENT OF 20-YEAR TONTINE LIFE RATE

Amount of

PREMIUM POLICIES ISSUED THROUGH THIS OFFICE IN 1873, SETTLED IN 1893.

Premiums Paid.		Settlement.
Geo. W. Dodge, Randolph	$1348 80	$1718 84
J. G. Ernst, Mt. Union	467 00	552 47
J. H. Campbell, Kent	1009 00	1339 84
A. M. Powers, M. D., Rootstown,	1009 00	1339 84
Rev. S. D. Gammel, Tallmadge,	934 00	1104 94
L. F. Sears, Randolph	418 60	- 477 10
J. L. Miner, Ravenna	397 80	444 30
A. G. Ely, Ravenna	408 00	. 460 43
Joseph West, Uhricksville	408 00	460 43
H. H. Oviatt, Braceville	441 40	512 92
W. R. Finch, Ravenna	511 20	619 49
J. M. Harden, Ravenna	397 80	444 30
Thomas Moses, Sharon, Pa	837 20	954 20
Rev. J. Beetham, Jewett	1362 00	1597 17
	$9948 80	$12026 27

The above shows that 14 men were insured 20 years for $20,000 at life rate premium, and have received in cash $2077.47 more than all the premiums paid. In addition to the above, the following Death Claims and Short Time Policies were paid:

SHORT TIME POLICIES. DEATH CLAIMS. ..$260 64 Mrs. J. T. Riddle, Ravenna.......$5,000 00 Prof. C. C. Douglas, Mt. Union...... 494 40 Mrs. Barnes, Fowler's Mills...... 2,000 00 717 64 Mrs. Pelton, Conneaut...... 2,000 00 Mary Schneider, Berea... R. G. Lindsley, Corry, Pa.. 360 oo Mrs. Baldwin, Kinsman, paid up..... 180 oo J. H. Mitchell, New Philadelphia...... 274 15 W. C. Jones estate, Orangeville..... 3,830 00 Making a total of $27,231.64 paid since J. S. Allen, Ravenna... 140 49 Dr. F. C. Case, Ashtabula 148 20 January 20th, 1893.

The satisfaction of beneficiaries with the settlement may be inferred from the following tatement of Dr. Powers, of Rootstown: "This certifies that in 1873 I obtained a Policy on my life in the EQUITABLE LIFE Assurance Society for $2,000. Have paid in annual premiums $1,009, and have this day received in settlement the Company's check for $1,339.84. I am so well satisfied, that I have applied for another Policy for $2,000. "ROOTSTOWN, O., April 19, 1893. A. M. POWERS, M. D."

T. G. PHILLIPS, GENERAL AGENT. RAVENNA, O., May 12, 1893.

Is the Place to Buy

YOUR DRUGS, MEDICINES, CHEMICALS, FINE TOILET SOAPS, BRUSHES, COMBS. ETC.

Which Is the Best? When all the battles are lost and are won. The last word spoken, the argument done, Which, which is the best land under the sun?

The question is pondered by you and by me, is our barks are sailing life's mystical sea, but as to the answer we disagree.

'Oh, the very best land," says the German, "is mine!" And his heart beats quick and his moist eyes As he loudly sings, Die Wacht am Rhein. But the Frenchman jeers at the German's praise, While a tribute to France you hear him raise In the fervent strains of the Marseillaise. At the Frenchman's boasting the Scotchman cries:

"What land so bonny beneath the skies
As the land where the great Sir Walter lies?" a woman feel more than regret at parting, they are not friends—but The Irishman answers, with a scornful smile: "Go over the universe, mile by mile,
And you'll find no land like the Emerald Isle." something more. Is that what you The Englishman comments in accents bland: "I'm thinking there's only one civilized land, And Britain's its name, you must understand."

The Yankee, rising, with deep emotion Exclaims, "I'm firmly set in the notion My eagle's the gem of the land or the ocean!" So after the battles are lost and won, The last word spoken, the argument done, Which, which is the best land under the sun! We are not divided, saving in name; In essence each choice is really the same, It springs from a common, ineffable flame.

Whatever our race, wherever we roam,
The spot that is dearest to each is home,
The toast drank deepest is "Home, sweet Home!"

AFFINITIES.

[Scene—A wood; springtime. Leonard Beauchamp and Marie Fairlight are walkng through the wood.] Leonard—All good things must come to an end and the best of friends must Look, part, I suppose. But the last week has been the shortest and happiest I can recall in my life.

Marie—Yes. It has been delightful. It is so refreshing to meet some one

PEOPLE WILL TALK! Give them Great Bargains, and they subject than the weather.

Will tell of them.

We have had some very nice talks. How I shall Marie—The squire always manages to bring a charming set of people to-gether. I call him an ideal host, gether. I call him an ideal host, and I like his wife, too, though she's a little too matter of fact perhaps. Leonard—Yes. She will persist in calling me Adelaid's young man. Marie-Well, are you? Leonard - Yes; oh, yes. That's right enough, but the accident of my being engaged to her niece scarcely on our first visit, too. Marie-Accident, do vou call it? What a queer expression for an engaged man to use. Leonard-Are not most engage-

Marie-When are they fatal? Leonard-When they end in matri-Marie-I was always under the impression that the sole object of an engagement was marriage. Leonard—Yes, and that is why there are so many unhappy ones. Marie-But, dear me; what other end would you have to an engage-

Leonard-I would have a natural end. According to my idea a man and a woman should be engaged to each other on-well, to put it bluntly, on trial. Yes, you laugh, but it is common sense. Let them see how the closer intimacy works before they're tied together for life. In nine cases out of ten it doesn't work, but neither has the pluck to face the situation, and they go to the altar doomed to a life mutual boredom, or something

Marie—That is all very fine, my friend, but supposing only one of them gets tired of the other. A woman, I admit, never has a reason (that is, not a logical one) for anything she does, but her instinct is seldom at fault where her heart is concerned, and she rarely takes back the love she once don't you understand that a man needs something more than mere loving admiration. He wants companionship. echo. Mere simpering agreement two large doughnuts besides. -- Detroit does not satisfy him. He wants to feel Free Press. the presence of an intellect that can look life in the face on equal terms with his own. But I need not say all this to you, for you perfectly understand what I mean. Marie-Yes, I understand.

Leonard-And-and you sympathize with me? Marie-About what?

Leonard-Come. We are friends, you know, and friends should be Marie-And prudent. Leonard-But surely there is no im-prudence in speaking to you of what you must know already. Marie-My friend, why speak to me of what I must know already? Leonard-Oh, it isn't as if Adelaide had any real love for me. Then your reproof might be deserved. Besides, you must have seen how she has caried on with young Sebright since we Marie-Oh, harmless fun, nothing more. She is of a lively temperament. You shouldn't be too hard on her. She is so young. Leonard-We are utterly unsuited o each other, and you know it. I see it so strongly ever since I met you.

Marie—Hush! We cannot be friends

f you talk to me like that. Leonard—What a ghastly farce life is! We have lived all these years unconscious of each other's existence, and we meet now, now when it is too late. That's so like the "cussedness' of things generally.

Marie-You forget we have only known each other a week. A week hence we might bore each other in-Leonard - Never. Some natures seem to have known each other always out yet why the girl didn't "show up" the very first time they meet. Marie-You believe in affinities, to human nature as to chemistry. atones to some extent for what you duction.

Leonard (gloomily)-I thought so a parting with you I feel differently.

Marie—How differently? We can height of forty feet. be friends just the same when absent Leonard-But don't friends feel-

Leonard-In what way?

call the cussedness of things gener-

eel sad at parting from each other. Marie-Of course they do-in a way. | peak and live.

Marie—Oh, it is difficult to explain. Leonard—Is it? Do you know I should very much like to hear your SCARED BY A SQUEALING PIG.

Item. It was a narrow shave, and the happy depositors have flocked to see the vociferous porker that scared off two skillful safe crackers just as they were about to lay their hands upon the bags and bundles of cash. People here retire early and rise early, and so do the animals, which accounts for the wandering about of an adventure-some hog long before daylight. Two professional bank burglars stole into town on Friday night. They had lo-Leonard—What are they? [A pause.] I am not your friend, Marie, for my heart feels anguish at the thought of of meeting you again.

Marie—Hush! We can and must be nothing but friends. If you say any more it means parting forever.

Leonard—Marie, you are cruel—un-

Marie-Believe me, it is kinder to say this to you now than to let you go further. It is for you to choose. Speak to me of love and I am your friend no more. Be worthy of yourself and I will be your true friend [They walk on in silence for some

Leonard—Yes; you are right. There is my hand. We will be friends. I cannot spare your friendship. It is the only joy of my life. Hark! There are voices in the woods to the right. They talk low. Who can they be? Why, that's young Sebright's voice. Look, look, he's got his arm round some girl's waist! Who is it? We some girl's waist! Who is it? We ought not to spy—what shall we do? They're going to cross the path we are they're going to cross the path we are

Marie-I will, but I think you had better remain. Leonard-I remain? Why? I have no more right to spy on them than you. Did you see? he kissed her. I say, I do feel mean, seeing them without their knowing. Marie-I think you may spare your Shall we turn back?

Leonard-Why? Marie-Don't you recognize the Leonard—The girl! Why, what—good heavens! It's Adelaide! Marie (quietly)-She has come contact with her affinity. being engaged to her niece scarcely Leonard (taking her hand) — Oh, compelled to doubt it, but, of warrants such grotesque familiarity, Marie, and so have I.—London Black I cannot refuse to believe you. and White

She Deserves a Good Husband. hearted, having once known what it was to have been at the top of the of the numerous vicissitudes that are bound to come into all lives, without whining, finding fault or repining is the one that is bound to make some man a good wife.

Nectar in His.

He was nothing but a tramp-s modest, retiring tramp-one of nature's-noblemen kind, and when in answer to his timid knock the young matron opened the door he asked rarely takes back the love she once sincerely gives. Now, tell me, what is to become of the woman who still loves the man who has grown tired of her?

"Might I beg for a cup of hot water from the breakfast table?" "You might—" she began frigidly, when he interrupted: "Would it be possible to Leonard (admiringly) — How you spot the weak place in my theory! I admit the difficulty, of course. But life—" "One minute, please. I don't ask for sugar, but if you will kindly look into the cup it will be turned into nectar—nectar, madam, He wants to spend his life with a woman who is his mind's mate, not his Got a Wife by Means of Induction They are talking of a marriage which came about by "induction. The ceremonies took place a few weeks ago and, of course, one of the contracting parties used to be, but isn't now, a pened this how: One evening when the air was filled with the electric current the gentleman party to the recent wedlock took up the 'phone in his office and heard a conversation not intended for his ears. It was between a down-town dude masher of telephone operators and one of those "I'm just waiting for a chance" kind of girls at the central office. Neither party to the conversation had seen the other, and when the dude told the girl he would meet her at 7:45 sharp at the corner of Dover and Washington streets he described his general appearance as "fit as a fiddle." The hello girl told him just how she would dress and, with a parting "be on time," went about her duties. The willing listener through induction was on a lark, and he bet his office companion the seats at the theater that he could win the lady to the conversation for that evening. He arrived at the spot appointed by the dude a few minutes ahead of the set time, and, approaching a young woman who answered the description of the lady for whom he was looking, said: "Ah! I see you are here ahead of time," and, offering her his arm, he walked quietly across the street and into the Grand Museum-not a moment too soon-for the dude hove in sight as the couple departed, and he hasn't found on that occasion. The friendship of that "induction" Leonard—Most certainly. If there are chemical affinities, why not human affinities?

Marie—The theory of affinities does not seem to adapt itself quite so well to human nature as to chemistry.

Leonard—No, there again is the general cussedness I was speaking of.

Marie—Rut was speaking of.

Marie—Rut was speaking of.

Marie—Rut was speaking of.

Marie—Rut was speaking of.

Leonard—Most certainly. If there then atural sequence—marriage. Of course, the bride now knows the land of the fan and that all other people were bunglers in its use is disproved by some interesting Japanese fan lore collected by Mrs. Salwey, a member of the Society Sinico Japanaise of Paris.

Mr. Croshy said in conclusion was removed, and, to then head on the fan and that all other people were bunglers in its use is disproved by some interesting Japanese fan lore collected by Mrs. Salwey, a member of the Society Sinico Japanaise of Paris.

Mr. Croshy said in conclusion was removed, and, to the horror of the "quack," he beheld a "cork leg," and was spellbound for a moment.

When he recovered he remarked, "You think you are smart, don't you?" which was greeted with a roar of laughter.

Mr. Croshy said in conclusion was the land of the fan and that all other people were bunglers in its use is disproved by some interesting Japanese fan lore collected by Mrs. Salwey, which was greeted with a roar of laughter.

Mr. Croshy said in conclusion was removed, and, to the head on either side. This is lifted out and the remainder of the horror of the "quack," he beheld a "cork leg," and was spellbound for a moment.

When he recovered he remarked, "You think you are smart, don't you?" which was greeted with a roar of laughter.

Mr. Croshy said in conclusion was the land of the fan and that all other people were bunglers in its use is dismonth.

When he recovered he remarked, "You think you are smart, don't you?" which was greeted with a roar of laughter.

Mr. Croshy said in conclusion was the land of the fan and that all other greeted with a roar of laught Leonard-Most certainly. If there then the natural sequence-marriage. Of course, the bride now knows the

The greatest waves known are said to be those off the Cape of Good Hope, to be those off the Cape of Good Hope, day or two ago, but now on the eve of parting with you I feel differently.

Marie—How differently? We can batcht of forty feet.

the interchange of fans. Cake is handed upon fans at tea time, and a fan is used to blow the fire.

A horse in Baltimore grew so hungry that he climbed up a flight of stairs, in used to blow the fire.

Burglars Take to Flight When on the Eve of Securing $60,000 Cash.

udelinot

A goose saved Rome and a pig saved the First National bank of Catawissa, Pa., $60,000, says the Catawissa News Item. It was a narrow shave, and the town on Friday night. They had located the First National bank and got the "lay" of the neighboring houses by sunlight, very evidently. The first thing they did was to string wires across the doors of all the houses near across the doors of all the houses near the bank. They did this so that if a noise awakened the people they could not readily get out of their homes.

bination. The thing seemed about ready to yield, and the daring robbers' fingers must have tingled in anticipation of the money they were about to grasp. Just at that moment, lucky for the bank, but unlucky for the robbers, a pig came down the street, squealing as it a knife were in his bers, a pig came down the street, squealing as it a knife were in his

She was a Western woman and had been entertaining a room full of guests in an uptown hotel with some extraordinary tales. She had just finished one particularly wild and woolly border romance, when a young Southerner present "Madam, if any one else in the world had told that story I should have been compelled to doubt it, but, of course, fluttered and squawked trying to extricate themselves, but to no purpose. ladder, then indeed is she one worthy of all the praise you can give her.

The woman who puts up with the discomforts of travel, of moving, and taineer and his wife ventured on the ice to capture some of the game. "The geese made one tremendous effort in unison, and lifted the whole sheet of ice into the air, slowly flying away with it. Slowly the ice floe ascended until it became a mere speck in the sky and finally disappeared altogether. The neighbors are now watching every day when the weather must have been a thousand of them-wife drop from the clouds." The Western woman looked up at the speaker and remarked:—"Well, that certainly does seem incredible, but I don't doubt it, for I've seen too many queer things myself."-N. Y.

WILD CATTLE AND DOGS. Domestic Animals That Have Gone Wild on the Sandwich Islands.

Humphrey B. Kendrick, the California collector of archæological and other curiosities, who has for many months past been at Kona, in the distant island of Hawaii, in the Sandwich group, and is now in this city, says that one thing in the Sandwich islands attracted his attention and made a lasting impression upon him. That was the great number of cuimals gone wild, says the San Francisco Examiner. These were taken there soon after telephone operator, says the Boston Navigator Cook's discovery. Some Herald. The acquaintanceship hap-wandered away, and now there are immense bands. They comprise wild cattle, wild dogs, and wild hogs. He is not certain but the latter have always been there, but if so, these and a curious little wild goose are the only indigenous creatures.

"The wild dogs hunt in packs," he said, "and are exceedingly ferocious. When domestic dogs go wild, they become in time a great deal like wolves. These inhabit the higher mountains, and are so vicious that they will sometimes attack men if they are on foot. If they are on horseback they don't usually do it. The dogs are of various colors, and they are pretty good-

"Large numbers of wild cattle are also found in the Pine mountains, that is up as high in the mountains as the pines grow. They graze up as high as the snow line. I have some friends near Kona engaged in the stock busi-ness, and they shoot down a good many of the wild cattle and use the meat for their men. There are vast bands of them. They are very flaet, but they are in good condition most of the time

"The hogs that so long ago went wild have grown small and run to snout and tusks. They are very savwild horses."

Fans in Japan.

when asked how he met his wife he Japanese warriors were accustomed Marie—But surely a true triendship says through Bell and Edison, by in- to go forth to battle with an immense iron fan as a shield. When a boy attains his manhood he is presented with FIRE! FIRE! FIRE!

Insurance a Specialty.

Ho! Good people of Portage Co. Do you want Reliable Insurance? Then go to E. M. WALLER, who has just bought the M. A. King Fire Insurance Agency—the largest in the Co.—and is now giving his entire time to the Insurance business.

Reasonable rates and honest dealing is the motto.

OFFICE over N. Converse & Son's Dry Goods Store, Ravenna, Ohio.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Highest of all in Leavening Power.- Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Gen. Gresham's Courage.

Gresham is as well known for his physical courage as for any of his other traits, says Kate Field's Washington. It is told of him that in 1866, when he was running for Congress against Michael C. Kerr, both can-didates happened to have hit one day pistol, but Gresham had one ready, too, and the pair stood facing each other for perhaps a minute in silence. Then the bully dropped his pistol arm at his side and slunk away in the crowd, while Gresham returned to the plat-form and coolly finished his speech.

UNDAUNTED BY PRESENTIMENT. Veteran's Story of How He Won Sergeant's Stripes in Sherman's March. "Now," he continued, as if by way of retaliation, "you cannot fail to appreciate a most unusual occurrence in preciate a most unusual occurrence in the sergeant shoved his soap box in western Arizona, where snow and preciate a most unusual occurrence in my State. The past winter, as you forward from the line and asked to be There are all sorts of pleasant girls in this world with winning ways and charming manners, but the girl of girls is the one who accomodates herself to her surroundings. As a matter of course a girl should be bright and agreeable when she has a beautiful home, every wish granted, luxuries galore, and no reason to be for a minute ill-tempered or out of sorts. If, however chance or misfortune throws her out of that comfortable nest among surroundings that are not congenial, where economy must be her watchword and hard work her principle, then if you find her smiling and light—was detailed to go to the rear on a job

There are all sorts of pleasant girls in the word and hard work her principle, the first of the past winter, as you know, has been unusually severe in the know, has been unusually severe in the know, has been unusually severe in the south the mesquite tree bears all the food needed to sussome talk about a man being a coward in a fight, or rather, if being afraid when a battle is about to come off is a sign that a man is a coward, and it remains a coward and it remains a coward and it remains a coward, and it remains a coward and it remains a coward and it remains a co was detailed to go to the rear on a job that was considered perfectly safe, and I was crazy to get at him and swap places with him. I never had felt that way before, but this time I would have body, as witness the fact that the given all my back pay and future woman died at noon and was on the hopes for that man's place. But I couldn't get it, and I went forward to Indeed, it is said that the mourners > fellow that went to the rear." "Oh, I almost forgot him," replied the sergeant. "After the fight was over we found him at his post tore all to pieces with a shell that had passed clean over the heads of us who were in the thick of the fight."

>
> at the lestivines. For the lestivines. To detail see the reasonableness of my calling it by such a name when you are told that the affair concludes by the killing and eating of all the horses of the departed, and every one goes to his own hut feeling that he has enjoyed himself in the thick of the fight." CURING A CORK LEG.

At the military levee given by the Boston lancers in their armory a few evenings ago Representative Crosby, from Worcester, was seated at a table in the gentlemen's room, surrounded by other members of the house who officiate on the same committee and s party of other notables, all of whom were enjoying one of Mr. Crosby's stories. Mr. Crosby said that it was a well-known fact he wore an artificial leg, that missing member having been lost during the late unpleasantness between the north and the south, while he was serving in the naval depart-ment, after retiring from a long and faithful service in the army. story, as repeated by the Boston Jour-

"Years ago, when I was in the habit of coming to Boston on business, I was on one cold, wintry day wandering down Sudbury street as best I could. when I was accosted by a seedy individual, with all the airs of a medical expert, who said: 'I can cure that game leg of yours in just ten minutes. I said, 'Can you?' and he replied, 'Yes; sit right down on this curbstone, and in just ten minutes you can walk away Mr. Crosby said he persuaded the crank to walk along to the nicely-fur-nished office of a friend, where they could work in the warmth of an inviting grate. On entering the office the friend was made aware of the condition of affairs, and of course made the surroundings as agreeable as possible so as to facilitate the hazardous under taking. Everything ready Mr. Crosby age. In many respects they resemble the peccaries. Away over south one of the small islands are large bands of wild borses." for a moment, without removing the underclothing which hid the artificial vagant private dinners. The dish limb. Now the time had come to apply the wonderful liniment, and the underclothing was removed, and, to cheeks. The cheek of a bass is a tiny

REFERRED HIM TO THE BIBLE.

How the Doctor's Young Patient Made Known the Nature of Her Trouble.

The physician was young, so was the patient, the case was strange, none of the symptoms corresponded with any known disease, the physician was per-Quickly they bored a hole in the outer door, unlocked it and entered. They stole to the safe, which contained $60,000 in cash. They began to pry at the door and manipulate the combination. The thing seemed about ready to yield, and the daring robbers' fingers must have tingled in anticipa.

Upon the same place and the same placed, he came every day, the patient grew worse, nothing seemed of the least use, says the London Queen. Presently the physician was perplexed, he came every day, the patient grew worse, nothing seemed of the least use, says the London Queen. Presently the physician was perplexed, he came every day, the patient grew worse, nothing seemed of the least use, says the London Queen. Presently the physician was perplexed, he came every day, the patient grew worse, nothing seemed of the least use, says the London Queen. Presently the physician was perplexed, he came every day, the patient grew worse, nothing seemed of the least use, says the London Queen. Presently the physician was perplexed, he came every day, the patient grew worse, nothing seemed of the least use, says the London Queen. Presently the physician was perplexed, he came every day, the patient grew worse, nothing seemed of the least use, says the London Queen. Presently the physician was perplexed, he came every day, the patient grew worse, nothing seemed of the least use, says the London Queen. Presently the physician was perplexed, he came every day, the patient grew worse, nothing seemed of the least use, says the London Queen. Presently the physician was perplexed, he came every day, the patient grew worse, nothing seemed of the least use, says the London Queen. Presently the physician was perplexed, he came every day, the patient grew worse, nothing seemed of the least use, says the London Queen. Presently the physician was perplexed to the same place and the least use, says the London Queen. bers, a pig came down the street, squealing as it a knife were in his throat. It dashed past the bank door, and close behind it came John Hulshizer, its owner. The pig had broken from its pen and was running off. Mr. Hulshizer, being an early riser, was ready to give chase. This fearful interruption unnerved the burglars and threy fied headlong from the bank and escape? Mr. Hulshizer did not see them, and the attempted robbery was not discovered until quite late the next morning. The burglars have not been caught, but the pig was, and it has been the object at which hundreds of admiring persons gaze.

TOUCH GOOSE TORY.

But the Western Woman, Who Had Also Seen Queer Things, Believed it.

But the Western woman and had have been caught of the street, for the substance of it had been secretly whispered about the neighborhoof for perhance a minute in silence. Then the stage and nothing else was devouring her, so that she was growing worse and worse daily. "And does the man know?" "Alas!" she replied, "he does not even suspect." "Can you tell him?" "Never." "Will you tell me, then? I might at least advise." She hung her head and had seen the object at which hundreds of admiring persons gaze.

TOUCH GOOSE TORY.

But the Western Woman, Who Had Also Seen Queer Things, Believed it.

But the Western woman and had had been secretly whispered about the neighborhoof for years. The accused drew his pistol, but Gresham had one ready, too, and the pair stood facing each other for perhance and there is and advanced und advanced in the troublesome auditor.

"I came here to make a speech," he said, "and I am going to make it. My friends and I have listened courteously to the substance of until I am going to make it. My friends and I have listened courteously to the speeches on your side and all we ask is that those who don't want to give us fair play in return shall quit the place. As for you personal-least advise." She hung her head and he least advise." She hung deally. "And does the man know?" "Alse was devouring the substance

MOJAVE FUNERAL RITES.

Grief and Appetite Go Hand in Hand at These Ceremonies. On the banks of the lower Colorado, among the gravel mesas and mesquite-covered valleys, live the Mojave Ind-ians, having their commercial head-quarters at The Needles, Cal., famed as the hottest place in the United States excepting Death valley, and noon, and we attended the funeral, four of us. The Mojaves practice crecouldn't get it, and I went forward to death, as I thought, while he went back to safety. It was a hot fight, and someknow, I don't know just how, I went at it hammer and tongs, and when it was done I had made a record that put the sergeant's stripes on my arm, and I didn't have the skin even marked. Now, was I a coward, or was the same of the well with one of the wise men of the triple, we were invited to be present. it the natural and proper fear a man As soon as we could swallow our dinshould have?" and the sergeant waited ners we started for the place, and were or an answer.

"That an't so much of interest," said friends of the departed, consisting of the veteran, "as what become of the every man, woman and child present at the festivities. You can see the

> The Mojaves believe in demonstrat-ing their feelings through the agency of the mouth and limbs, and this woman, being much beloved, the mourners were many and their grief could be heard a mile away. If ever you have heard a pack of coyotes howling forth their misery in the middle of the night, when they howl most artistically, you have this noise to a dot.
>
> Arriving at a place we found a hole dug in the ground about ten feet in diameter and two feet deep, heaped full of wood and surmounted by the body of the deceased. This was burning, and around it in picturesque atti-tudes were all the friends trying to outdo each other in exclamations of grief. The head doctor, for the Mojaves have physicians, stood by the side of the genius who stirred the fire, giving directions for the most rapid destruction of the body, which he had, no doubt, with great skill assisted in becoming a corpse. He thus carried his functions a step further than the physicians in civilized life. One old fellow, who seemed to be the minister, was standing within the ircle haranguing the assembly, doubtless on the many virtues of the de-parted, and when he seemed to make an unusually good point the mourners manifested their appreciation by an increase in the force of their groans. Finally the relatives and friends ate the horses that were the property of the deceased, and went home firmly believing that the dead woman's spirit is roaming untroubled in "Ghost Mountain," just across the river.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Bass' Cheeks. Bass' cheeks is the very latest rastronomical novelty. They do not gure on cafe menus yet and are found comes very high because it takes about

A Dainty Way to Serve Butter. Worth circulating is the appetizing where under the finite fine finite field up a fight of stairs, in a beight of forty feet.

The fan is used as a sort of target, and butterflies and fireflies are caught on fans. In fact, there is no occasion in Japanese life when the fan is not that Ararat is guarded by an unearthly being, and that no man can ascend the peak and live.

that he climbed up a fight of stairs, in a house, to obtain a bag of cats that had been stored there. After his lunch that he he was discovered there. After his lunch that he animal thrust his head through a window, carrying away the sash, and was discovered coolly surveying the situation. With difficulty he was got down to the street.

peals of laughter from his friends receives a big order he creates a corner about him, "it cost that quack several dollars before he escaped from that Record.